

Confrontational Simulation

Hours: Eight

Seminar Synopsis:

This is a scenario-based use of force decision-making program that uses simulation equipment and marking ammunition to enhance an officer's use of force decision-making abilities. The Confrontational Simulation program combines an informative use of force presentation with dynamic three-dimensional use of force scenarios to improve your officers' use of force decisions. The following are the benefits of Con Sim training:

- Better use of force Justification
- Improved use of force decisions
- Enhanced use of force report writing
- Reduced department and officer liability
- The use of physical barriers to reduce the necessary for force
- Increased understanding of corrections and police use of force
- Properly managed witness perceptions of an office's use of force
