

Female Officer Survival

Hours: Eight

Seminar Synopsis:

Officer survival training should not be one size fits all. Female officers have different officer survival needs than their male counterparts. Consequently, this seminar offers information and training in survival skills, use of force concepts, and effective arrest and control tactics for the female officer. The following are the skills and tactics this dynamic seminar offers:

- Ground defense
- Survival mindset
- Personal weapons
- Counter assault tactics
- Use of force justification
- Joint manipulation techniques
- Unconventional defensive tactics
- Edged and impact weapon defense
- Weapon retention and disarming tactics
- Use of the tactical folding knife in self-defense
